Its called quid pro quo, Ethel.

We import their doctors and other highly trained professionals, educated at the expense of the Indian People, leaving the Indian poor to die for lack of proper care.

But it helps keep our health care "system" afloat so we close our eyes.

Western powers, especially Depraved Britain, pillaged the sub-continent for a century and now we scream bloody murder because of a few motel owners and programmers. At least India is a democracy and not a threat like China.

We need to worry about what China does with our records, especially come July 1, 1997 when these dictators get access to Hong Kong with ALL it has to offer.
