Its also helpful to be the friend of a fed, as was a wealthy lady from the posh Upper East Side back in November 1992. She was being stalked by an unknown wacko with many harrassing phone calls and threats. Her little girl received a condom in the mail!

All this prompted her to bypass NYC law enforcement and go right to the top, and I mean THE top: her personal friend William Sessions, Director of the FBI. He was so upset at this lady's horrifying predicament he IMMEDIATELY had dozens, and I mean DOZENS (plural) of agents DROP what they were doing to find this wacko. They finally got him but one has to ask: "at what price?"

These dozenS of agents were pulled off other cases to bypass normal channels (and the NYPD) to help out the Director's personal friend. Shades of influence peddling aside, perhaps one of these agents would have uncovered information that would have prevented the WTC bombing just three months later.

Of course, in the all-in-the-family ethos of law enforcement there was no investigation (and certainly no prosecution) of this case by either the feds or the political Manhattan DA.
