Do you really believe Arafat wants peace? Just read the papers for the next 12 mos or so, Jews will continue to be murdered by PLO terrorists and you can be Arafat will have had hand in it. He' only taking what he can get for now. Like Ho Chi Minh, he's patient.

This "murderous thug" is the best chance for lasting peace in the Mid-East.

There are many radical Palestinians who would love to see him dead, to remove his moderating influence on his community so that they may murder Israelis with suicidal impunity.

The next best thing would be to humiliate Arafat and cause him to lose stature, influence and respect among the Palestinians which w wld be a great gain for the radicals. We have a Federal Government for a reason, the chief being to handle foreign relations. Mayors are not supposed to stick their big, fat politicized noses into situations where the lives of thousands, if not millions, are at stake.

Guilliani is obviously willing to let Israeli Jews die in order to secure the votes of right-wing Jews in New York. Anything to disrupt the peace process.

The WTC bombing and the attempted bombings were done by groups that would just as well kill Arafat as they did Kahane. Maybe Hizzoner will be their next target.

Hizzoner is NOT inconsistent, he's a typical Republican.

A Republican will sell-out his own grandmother if it will make a profit for his masters on Wall Street.

Rolling out the Red Carpet for the Red Butchers of Beijing just shows us Guiliani's willingness to spit on the graves of thousands of American servicemen who died trying to save Asians from communism.

Wall Street got fat selling the weapons of war and now its getting even fatter dealing with the Butchers. Guiliani, a thoroughly modern political prostitute, will just lay back and let the big bucks roll in to reward him for his ongoing "service."

Wall Street is getting so fat it will just blow itself up. (Unless some Freedom Fighters do it first.)

Rick, you seem to be missing the point here. Arafat's role in the peace talks and the issue of his sincerity or insincerity in renouncing his former terrorist agenda are not the issue, as Giuliani made very clear. The Israelis and the American state department meet with Arafat because he is amazingly enough considered "moderate" in the Arab world, and there is no one else to hammer out a peace deal with. Giuliani is not involved in any of this; he was throwing a party for the guests to his city who had come to the UN's 50th anniv. This was a social event, not a diplomatic meeting, and Giuliani was not threatening mid-east peace by insisting that he didn't want a murderous thug at his party. Giuliani's action was a most dignified and courageous way of telling the world that while other may have no choice but to negotiate with this scoundrel, because of realpolitik, he had no interest in hosting the man at a concert and cocktail reception. As a former US federal prosecutor, involved in the Achille Lauro murder of Leon Klinghoffer who was thrown into the sea in his wheelchair on direct orders from Arafat, Giuliani remembers all too well what a heartless, bloodthirsty bastard Arafat really is, and righteously sent him away after he crashed his party.

A good host knows how to "grin and bear it."

A slimeball politician knows how to get political mileage from any event.

Giuliani may be dishonest, but he is not so stupid as to claim that Mr. Klinghoffer was pushed overboard on "direct orders of Arafat." You are hallucinating, Allan, if you believe there is any evidence whatsoever for this statement.

You have picked up somebody's propaganda, probably someone who is out of power and wants to get back in by derailing the peace process.

Yesterday, Mossad killed a leader of Hamas in Malta. He was a sworn enemy of Israel, Arafat, the PLO and the peace process. During the invasion of southern Lebanon an Israeli gunner had Arafat in his sights, but General Sharon, who was on the scene, decided against pulling the trigger. In international relations there are always bigger fish to fry and even Likud realized that Arafat could be useful in the long run.

Watch out George! The current Israeli government is willing to give up the Golan Heights to a sworn enemy of Israel, a man who butchered 20,000 of his own (dissident) People in Hama.

Artillery now in Syria's arsenal can bombard Tel Aviv from the Heights, but since President Bush sat down with the Butcher of Hama and gave him international credence and respect, we're supposed to roll over and expose our vitals to this murderer.

All for the cause of Big Oil! The U.S. government will do ANYTHING for Wall Street. Guiliani can snub Arafat, but does he have the courage and integrity to go against Bush,

Dole, the Republican Party and Wall Street and denounce the REAL threat to peace, Assad?

Are YOU out of it, Greg?

It was the whining wimp George Bush who sent two top foreign policy advisors to Beijing just two months after the Tiananmen Massacre, to assure the butchers all was still well in Sino-U.S. relations.

And this bozo didn't even have the courage to do so publicly. News of this kow-tow didn't get out until eight months later.

Bush served his brethren on Wall Street well by thus keeping open the door for trade. (Trade which is lopsidedly in favor of China.)

And then, as if to PROVE how much he loves the Chinese dictators and despises freedom, President Bush signed the U.S.-Hong Kong Act of 1992 which give the U.S. government's seal of approval |o the coming sell-out of the 6,000,000 freedom loving capitalists of Hong Kong, who are due to be absorbed into the "People's Republic" on July 1st, 1997.

Of course, Dole and Gingrich and the other Republican hypocrites couldn't care less about the fate of these People because Wall Street is making big profits at the expense of slave labor in China, and Wall Street is where the Repub-licats get the money to politicalal screw the rest of us.

Luckily, we still have the 2nd Amendment and that is our license for violent Revolution. And Bush is so worried about THAT prospect that he resigned from the NRA, (after, in true Bush style, he lied about it.)

George, We negotiate now to avoid bloodshed in the future.

After the basic framework is in place we'll continually add details to it to make violence ever more remote.

Land for peace means the status quo is changed in Israel's favor. Before '67 there was Israel and no peace. After the West Bank issue is settled there will STILL be Israel in her original borders AND peace.

Hamas and the Jihad will slowly wither, Syria is the real problem.

The wheel keeps turning.

One of the ways to defend Isreal now is to defend the PLO.

If you don't believe me, ask Prime Minister Rabin.

If we don't keep up with changing circumstance we'll be crushed by the wheel of history.

The best defense is to be well informed.

It produces jobs for people in Mexico and Indonesia and Malaysia and Peru and everywhere else people work more cheaply than here in Wall Street's home, the good old U.S.A.

And the effect of these jobs that are produced is to create more wealth for the already rich, politically connected Wall Streeter who DOES NOT pass along these labor savings to the American consumer. He keeps the profits for himself, while millions of Americans, many of whom are veterans, are unemployed or under-employed. This excess of labor makes America an employers market, which means most Americans have to take what is available and compete for low wage jobs.

The standard of living for the rich and the connected go up while everyone else struggles.

This is a classic formula for violent Revoluti n:
The rich get richer and the poor get guns.

Most of the entrepreneurs in Hong Kong are small scale capitalists, like what here in America is referred to as Main Street.

Main Street and Wall Street are, and have always been, incompatible. The Internationalists pool their resources (wealth, politicians) and stream roller the little guy.

There is a Revolution coming, a world capitalist Revolution that will overthrow concentrated capital and the crooked politiciaoc it buys and pays for.

Oh I see, you're one of those "conspiracy dudes", even worse, spouting revolution. BTW "Wall Street" merely functions as device to raise capital primarily in the form of stock (equity) so corporations IBM, Walmart, Microsoft, etc can grow, and hire "main street" Americans. The investment vehicles in Wall Street that produce 'wealth' are available to anyone. So quit babbling about "revolution" and buy some stock.

Buy stock? Are you crazzy?

With the advent of derivatives it is now possible to make a profit from a decline, or crash, of the stock market.

Used to be people all pulled in the same direction, UP, but now someone (or some groups) can get rich by kicking out market supports.

With the NYSE at or near record levels look not for a "correction" but a crash as the big stock manipulating institutions pave the way for a sickening slide, and then laugh all the way to the mega bank.

Back in the good old days millions of little guys owned bits and pieces of various stocks. But now most stock is held by huge organizations that can sell off $billions worth at the push of a button while the little guy sleeps.

When the little guy wakes up he'll find out the meaning of "straddle," but it will be too late.

Funny you should mention Walmart especially in connection with Main Street. Walmart is sucking the last breath out of Main Street and is assassinating the basic American Dreamer.

Adam Smith referred to the strength of England as being a Nation of shopkeepers. (Not a nation of corporate executives.) America was built by millions of small, independent businessmen who are now being squeezed out of existence by the concentrated wealth of the Walmarts, losing their financial independence and forced to become mere employees of the huge, faceless corporation that imports most of what it sells from cheap labor, repressive foreign countries. Of course, Bill Bush and George Clinton just love Walmart because they love the money their friends make from it.

Revolution is not only the easiest answer, it is the only answer.

Know the old game "rock, paper, scissors?"
Well, the bullet trumps them all.

Can you guess what any widespread violent civil disobedience will do to the stock market? Remember what happened in Mexico when a few isolated Indians took up arms against the oppressive regime?
