

Board: NEWS BB
Subject: DECLARATION OF WAR?
Posted: August 19,1996 17:59:38
To: MATTHEW ^ELSON (NLLD11A)
From: RICK GOMBAS (CHHL71A)

The History we read about was REALITY to the People who experienced it. We hold in high esteem those who killed their enemies in a Patriotic cause and then created the greatest Nation on Eavth.

Today, People don't have much of a sense of History. They are too close to understand what's going on and they don't realize the situation is the same as in 1775. Back then folks discussed high ideals and strove to create a mutually supportive social/political atmosphere. Now everyone blames everyone else for the problems of society, but because the means of communication is controlled by the ruling class, we never see the true culprit. The true culprit keeps everything stirred up so We the People remain dis-united. The ruling class knows, and fears, that were we ever to unite it will be at THEIR expense.

Its survival of the fittest. The ruling class has hoarded wealth and power in order to keep wealth and power vrom the People. The People have hoarded guns and bullets in order to...

Its survival of the fittest that keeps the ruling class in power, and, interestingly, its survival of the fittest that will get them out.

Human nature is still held in thrall by Social Darwinism. The ruling class figures it has the brains and institutions to run things, but the People will always have the numbers and the weapons. A few millionaires with bullets in their brains will show just who is fittest, under current rules, to run society.

Bulletin ID: EZA960819175938CHHL71ANLLD11A

Board: NEWS BB
Subject: DECLARATION OF WAR?
Posted: August 17,1996 23:14:33
To: NIKKI HELLER (ZWEZ51A)
From: RICK GOMBAS (CHHL71A)

NIKKI,

You conveniently failed to say WHICH SIDE your ancestors fought on in the Revolution. Then, as now, there were plenty of Tories who just wanted to preserve the status quo and not rock the boat. Fully a third of our population back then couldn't care less about the Ideas and the Ideals of liberty, and a third actively supported the party in power. It was the third willing to take action that created this great Nation.

The difference between then and now is today's enemy is not a Monarchy, but an OLIGARCHY. Smart, ambitious and wealthy people now run this country for the benefit of smart, ambitious and wealthy people. Now, as then, we don't have a say if we don't have the bucks to say it with.

The Revolutionaries said it with words and with guns, and if it was good enough for them, it's sure good enough for us.

I'm disturbed by your use of the phrase "the only Revolution we allow here..." This country is based on the standards of the Declaration of Independence which states quite clearly when Revolution is "allowed." Read it and weep.

Bulletin ID: EZA960817231433CHHL71AZWEZ51A

Board: NEWS BB

Subject: DECLARATION OF WAR?

Posted: August 17, 1996 18:07:12

To: RICK GOMBAS (CHHL71A)

From: NIKKI HELLER (ZWEZ51A)

RG: REVOLUTION? As in: bang, bang....??

Sorry, Pancho, but the only revolution we allow here in the United States is civil disobedience and revolution via the ballot box. Try South America.

And don't presume to tell me about latecomers like the framers of the Constitution. My family has been here since the 1600's and fought in our Revolution. You conveniently avoid the fact that we were opposing a monarchy, with little say or influence. That is not in the least what we are dealing with in the United States today. I might have to keep my eye on you. NIKKI

Bulletin ID: EZA960817180712ZWEZ51ACHHL71A

Board: NEWS BB

Subject: DECLARATION OF WAR?

Posted: August 15, 1996 23:23:16

To: NIKKI HELLER (ZWEZ51A)

From: RICK GOMBAS (CHHL71A)

Welcome to History 101, aka the Revolution Alternative.

There is no reason to be a victim of government. We have every Right to overthrow that government when it abuses us and our trust.

The previous government that we overthrew was opposed to our right to keep and bear arms, and it was their attempt, on April 19, 1775, to take our weapons that instigated the Revolution. And for 200 succeeding years we had a great Nation founded on the idea of the Right to Revolution. If you believe Revolutionary violence is unacceptable, then you must not be familiar with America's founding Document, the Declaration of Independence.

Why should we live in a society ruled by the corporate state? That's not the way America was originally. It has been relatively recently that the Washington/Wall Street Axis arose in tyranny against the American People, but that doesn't mean we have to be stuck with it forever.

If We the People decide We shall no longer submit to their tyranny, and they refuse to go quietly, then We will take them out with noise! Do not fear, NIKKI, keep an open mind and rest assured that the Revolution will benefit 90+% of our People and the future will ignite with the clear light of peace, njustice and prosperity for ALL Americans.

Bulletin ID: EZA960815232316CHHL71AZWEZ51A

Board: NEWS BB
Subject: DECLARATION OF WAR?
Posted: August 15, 1996 00:53:30
To: RICK GOMBAS (CHHL71A)
From: NIKKI HELLER (ZWEZ51A)

R: Most people have been a "victim" of our elected government in some way, large or small. Welcome to Life 101..... also known as adult reality.

I've been a political activist for over 10 years. I've gotten my way on several issues. I've eaten it on other important issues. I'm currently waiting for anti discriminatory legislation to be passed (and have been for seven slooow years). We're now making some progress, especially under President Clinton. But weapons and militia? That is unacceptable thinking. And just what

"alternatives" were you thinking of? NIKKI

Bulletin ID: EZA960815005330ZWEZ51ACHHL71A
