curious interest in anti-israel and anti-British Books... To Patrick J. Buchanan, the gulf war offered the sublime opportunity to reenact the great debate of 1940-41. In the role of Britain-slyly manipulating U.S politics to maneuver American boys into fighting its wars-was Israel. Buchanan himself would revive the role of Charles Linbergh. Lindbergh another star of the America First movement had predicted that the United States could not win a war with Nazi Germany; Buchanan had similar defeatism as an argument against war wit Iraq. Lindbergh notorious September 1941 warning that the three most important groups who have been pressing this country toward war are the British, the Jewish and the Roosevelt administration. Buchanans uncannily parallel remark that the only ones beating the drums of war were the Israeli Defense ministry and its aymen corner in this country.... Americans should be concerned about Patrick J. Buchanan. The stinch of the America First Committee cannot be repeated again in the 90's. The comparison are to close.

What clinched his decision to enter the 1992 race was not George bush's 1990 agreement to raise the top rate of income tax in exchange for some restrictions on federal expenditures, much as Buchanan disliked the budget deal. The clincher, Buchanan told his confidants, was the president's signing of the 1991 civil rights act. With Euro-American and Third World American interests starkly pitted against each other, the president had preferred Third World America. Buchanan decided that the time was read for mutiny. Thank god for Arizona Buchanan replied when they refused to adapt a holiday for Martin Luther King..

America first!!! What old quarrels that slogan dredges up, for the country but especially for the American Right. The epic of American conservatism since 1945 had been the story of William Buckley and his National Review purging the Right of the naivety, xenophobia, and general stupidity of America First. And now here w w America First again, reinjected into American politics by a man who understood every nuance of the phrase. But when war broke out in the Persian Gulf in the summer of 1990, nationalism suddenly took on new and substantial meaning. After a brief flurry of indecision, President Bush dispatched troops to Saudi Arabia and mobilized for the war that would eject Iraq eight months later. But here was Buchanan opposing the war on the grounds that America had zero interest in the Persian Gulf.. As Buchanan said at the time, the only ones beating the drums of war, are the Israeli defense ministry and its aymen corner in this country. Buchanan saw it as an Israeli war, when the war was fought over oil and to maintain the developed world's monopoly on nuclear weapons. Buchanan stood with the American first movement of the late 30's and early 40's .. In the summer of 1940 as German troops occupied Paris, Robert Taft one of the stars of the American First movement , warned that it would be just as dangerous to overestimate as to underestimate the gavity of the situation. In March 1941 Taft was still insisting that war is even worse than a German victory. As German tanks rushed

The sense they saw in getting out of Hong Kong was the sense of the Cold War. When Thatcher began negotiating the sell-out Brezhnev was still chief dictator and the West NEEDED China as a counter-weight against the Soviets. But when the geo-political situation changed the West didn't adjust its policies to contain Chinese power and belligerence. This will be considered by future Chinese historians as the West's fatal mistake. The capitalists the Chinese Communist Party claims to detest have indeed sold them the rope with which they'll hang us!

The only rule the British understand is the rule of greed.

The Chinese Army is now largely financed by our $40,000,000,000 annual trade deficit. Every time you buy some "made-in-China" crap from a Wal-mart you're paying for a bullet that will someday kill an American soldier. A few months ago a high Chines official threatened nuclear destruction of Los Angeles if we interfered in the Taiwan crisis and Dole and Clinton responded with their Wall Street drivell about how free trade is good for the American economy!

Guerilla movements have often been highly successful in bringing tyrants to their knees, beginning, interestingly, on April 19, 1775, and continuing, hopefully, forever.

Britain spent much of the past century ruining China and most of the last three doing the same to Ireland. As long as THEY are the big kid on the block they act the typical bully and get away with it.

The sad thing is we Americans saw the truth 200+ years ago but instead of hounding the fox til he's exhausted, we joined him in his lair. America and Britain stood together and defeated the Nazis. We stood together and defeated the Soviet. Then we rolled over and played dead for the crafty communists in Beijing. When we Americans allow the abuse of Northern Ireland to go unopposed we abdicate the political morality won so dearly in 1776, and descend to THEIR level. Which, of course, is exactly what the Brits want.

What Britain can no longer get militarily, they achieve with this "special relationship." Doing the right thing is an alien concept to the British ruling class; selling out a People, unfortunately, is not.

Gerry and Andrew and James:

Perhaps you can explain to us why the Brits are so unwilling to leave a united Ireland.

After all, next year they will abandon the six million freedom loving capitalists of Hong Kong to the brutal communist dictators of Beijing. These Peoeoe are British "subjects" just like the People of Northern Ireland are.

Does the British ruling class really believe these Irish folks will be treated worse by the Republic of Ireland than the Hong Kongers will be by the butchers of Tiananmen?

Has the Brutish ruling class, after inflicting untold misery on the world's People for nearly a millenium, found a soul-mate in the PRC? If so, we should thank our lucky stars they didn't forge an alliance of convenience with that other group of genocidal maniacs back in '38.
