You contradict yourself. You say that free trade leads to revolution, yet you also say that human rights flow from a free economy. Free trade is the path to a free economy. This has certainly been the case with other Asian countries. Therefore, human rights also flow from free trade. By placing barriers to free trade, protectionism takes over and the nation moves farther away from a free economy, and by your own statement, farther away from human rights.

Increased wealth among the Chinese People, and the desire for more of it, will CAUSE political unrest and Revolution.

Once the pry bar is inserted the door can only be further opened. Any serious attempt to close it will shatter the State.

By increasing "free trade" with China we are making Revolution INEVITABLE.

Human rights flow from, and flourish in, a free economy.

The universal standard you're looking for can be found in:

Judeo-Christian "Golden Rule."

American Declaration of Independence, 1776.
French Declaration of the Rights of Man, 1791.
Natural Law.
