Kemp didn't have the noive in '80 to run against Javits and so we got stuck with D'Ahole and two years later couldn't muster the courage to take on old man Carey, who then dropped out. Unknown Lew Lehrman then nearly upset Cuomo.

The saddest words in human experience: "It could have been."

If Kemp had had the old fire in the belly he would be finishing up his second term right about now, instead of being a has been appealing to the nostalgia of folks who actually believe "free trade" is good for America.
